RAINED CLEAR INTO

NEEDLES, CALIFORNIA

Pat Miller and Oscar Williams returned Saturday from California where they visited Jess and John Miller.

They report rains all the way from Needles, California, to Hamlin, and nowhere did they find any more mud than in Hamlin. So much for that. You see lots of mud means good land.

Mr. and Mrs. Tate May and son, James Tate, spent last Sunday in Abilene, at the home of Dr. Carl Rister who has been ill for several months. They report that he is improving and is now able to sit up some. Mr. Rister, a teacher in the Oklahoma University, was brought from Norman to his residence in Abilene several weeks ago to be near relatives and old friends and has gradually improved each week.

G. E. McCelvey of Temple, a man who owns a lot of land south of Hamlin, heard West Texas had "gone wet," so as usual he lost no time in coming out. He was accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Staton of Waco, who also has extensive farm lands south of Hamlin.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Niedecken of Snyder, came over Monday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Niedecken.

DO YOU WANT THE HERALD TO KEEP COMING?

One copy of this paper may be worth ten times what a whole year cost.

Last week most everyone realized how much the Herald is read. Copies every week, have as much interest to someone.

We print no extra copies for FREE distribution. Wish we could but we can't put out a product free. Hereafter extra copies must be spoken for in advance, and the cost is five cents per. The subscriber must be cared for first.

Some people "borrow" their neighbor's Herald—nothing wrong in that except trouble to both the borrower and the owner.

The Herald cost a little less than 2 cents per week by mail and if your "home paper" is not worth that much and many times more, your Hamlin community is not worth your living in it. Subscribe for the Herald and see if it is not worth ten times what it costs you.

Many subscriptions are expiring these days, watch out—don't miss a copy.

MARRIED IN SNYDER

Last Sunday afternoon, one of Hamlin's young business men, Mr. V. T. Stringer, was united in marriage, in Snyder, to Miss Eileen Sheid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Sheid of that city.

Mr. Stringer has lived in Hamlin about four years, and is bookkeeper for the Western Compress & Storage Company of this city. He and his bride are at home on Union Avenue, occupying apartments in the Mrs. B. W. Nobles residence.

G. C. Vaught of Hobart, Oklahoma, came in Monday to look after his Hamlin property. He owns the two buildings occupied by the Ensey Grocery and the York (First) Store — both good property. Mr. Vaught formerly resided at Knox City and he is now in the nursery business.

L. B. Williams, Jr., son of Mrs. Ineth Williams left Sunday for College Station, Texas, where he has enrolled for his first year at Texas A. and M. College.

Otto Berlin arrived from Cleveland, Ohio, Wednesday afternoon, after going to that city with the body of Richard Lehman one week ago. He was accompanied back to Hamlin by Ernest and Otto Lehman, who came to Hamlin principally to show and express personally their feelings of appreciation and gratitude to the people for their many acts of kindness shown in the recent tragedy.

Mrs. E. R. Richardson wants to change her paper to Tyler, Texas. She (formerly Miss Ruby White) says East Texas is as "likeable as lookable."

FURNISHED HOUSE TO RENT

Have a good five room residence fully furnished, located on Jackson and 3rd Street. If interested see or phone

MRS. C. P. CHASTIAN.

BAND CONCERT SATURDAY NIGHT

Hamlin streets will ring with the Cow Boy Band Music Saturday night when the Abilene Goodwill Trippers arrive.

This visit by men from our neighboring city, is sponsored by the Abilene Rotary Club and in Hamlin by the Hamlin Rotary Club.

STREET PARADE STARTS 7:30

The Goodwill Tour of the Abilene Rotarians starts from that city in time to arrive at Roby at 2:45, at which place a program will be staged. From Roby they go to Rotan, about 3:45, and from then until about 5:30 the bunch will render a varied program and start for Hamlin. They will take supper in Hamlin. Here the Hamlin Rotarians will play host, and with the aid of all the "Friendly" men and women in town, make the visitors welcome.

The Simmons Cow Boy Band, internationally known for their music, and entertainment, will be the chief attraction. The group will form a parade on Central Avenue about 7:30 P. M. and make the entire street glad with their music (all this is provided it does not rain). Following the parade a suitable place will be designated for the concert and program. It will be in the open, and everybody is invited to come and hear.

There will be lots of fun. There will be special stunt numbers, and something to fit the fancy of everyone in the crowd. The program should not interfere with anything in Hamlin. It will last about an hour or more and shopping, seeing, talking and everything can be attended to in regular fashion.

Hamlin needs a regular Band Stand, and a special public "Square" for occasions of this kind, but in the absence of such, some appropriate street, agreeable to the City Authorities will be used, but not Central Avenue. That thoroughfare is a federal highway and should not be blocked.

Saturday night should be a gala evening for everybody, tell 'em to come and let's enjoy this musical treat.

CARD OF THANKS

It would be impossible for us to try to find language sufficient to express to Hamlin people our deep appreciation and thanks for the many expressions of sympathy and for your generous help in the saddest hours of our life, when death took from us our companion and father. May God's richest blessings abide with each and everyone is our prayer.

MRS. N. E. MONEY
and Children.

-SEEING WHAT'S TO SEE
-HEARING WHAT'S TO HEAR

DANGER: It seems there is danger ahead for everyone. Just this week two school girls were perhaps fatally injured on the highway, near Stamford while getting off a school bus. In spite of caution, care and warnings, these sad happenings creep upon folks. Wonder if it should not be a good law to force every motorist to come to a dead stop when they see a School Bus stopped, anywhere? From here out school bus transportation is going to be more and more common. In spite of all that can be done deaths will occur from this modern method of travel. Then let's all think and act for more safety. The chief cause of present-day accidents is "rush," "hurry," and "get there quickly" idea. It just does not pay.

One makes enough mistakes when he does his best.

DOWN HAMLIN STREETS: One

is in as much danger as if on an open highway. It is timely here to say that there is one practice in Hamlin that should be prohibited. That is boys riding bicycles, in the main business district in a manner that is going to mean the death of some little fellow. Often one may see a boy "wobbling" along, as if he was going to stop or cross but ever and on he goes, leaving motorist doubtful whether to stop, or pass the rider. Bicycles ridden along back of parked cars, and this means some innocent autoist will back into the kiddo and the rest of life be hurt by the terrible accident. Down Central Avenue rushe many drivers, regardless of hazards to traffic. It is criminal. Speed limits in certain zones should be plainly marked and any one violating that limit should be held as a criminal driver, except a fire truck, or maybe an ambulance, and they should have a limit within reason. Better the whole town burn up than one man get killed to save a few minutes and better one person wait a few minutes for an ambulance than risk the lives of several persons. We, all of us, can't be too careful.

HIDDEN PROFITS IN HIDDEN ACRES

"Hidden acres" exist on every cotton farm of the South. These acres are "hidden" because their productivity depends upon the farmer's skill in using them, because they represent a productive capacity over and above the actual physical limits of the farm. Through the use of these "hidden acres," Southern farmers will increase the size of their farms, because they will increase the productive capacity of every acre.

When harvested, an acre of cotton represents an acre's production of lint and seed—the cash return from the volume of these two products that the acre of cotton will grow. But there is more to an acre of cotton than this cash return.

The "hidden acre" in the field of cotton consists of the feeding value and the fertility contained in the cotton seed raised there and made available to the farmer by the cotton oil mill in the form of cottonseed meal and hulls. If this feeding value and fertility is acquired by some other farmer or ranchmen, he (and not the actual grower of the seed) gains the added acres.

But if the cottonseed meal and hulls are returned to the farm where he seed was produced, the cotton grower will increase the productivity of his cotton acres—achieving the same results as if he had actually added acreage to the size of his farm, yet without spending the money that would be required to buy such acreage.

The "hidden acres" in cottonseed meal and hulls today are fairly well known to most Southern farmers. Farmers know that these feeds are most valuable supplements for their home-grown grains and roughages and pastures. The use of these supplements, also adds acres to the productivity of their fields of grain and hay, as these products are converted by efficient farm animals into profitable meat, milk or power on the farm.

Soil fertility, too, is part of the "hidden acres" in cottonseed meal and hulls. The feeding of these products to livestock on the farms where the cotton was raised returns to the soil approximately 65 to 80 per cent of the original plant food taken out of the soil by the growing cotton.

These additional acres, therefore, are available to every Southern farmer who will sell or exchange his cotton seed for cottonseed meal and hulls. These hidden acres uncovered by the proper use of cottonseed meal and hulls will increase the size of his farm by increasing its productivity. Their use offers one of the greatest opportunities for Southern farmers to achieve the balanced farming program that will make the most profitable use of their farms' soil resources.

LOWER INTEREST RATES FIRST STEP IN AIDING TENANTS TO OWNERSHIP

(This is the second of three articles on what is being done by the Resettlement Administration to assist tenant farmers to become landowners.)

In helping low-income farmers to win ownership of their land, the first problem is to help them earn a better living in their present status as tenants. They must be helped to build up the reserve necessary both for the purchase of land and for operating it.

The Resettlement Administration this year made loans to 29,653 Texas farm families to purchase livestock, equipment and supplies. These farmers had been ineligible for financing from any other source. Without it they would have had no means of carrying on the farming activities which were their only means of livelihood. The average amount of the loan was $304, repayable in one to five years. It bears 5 per cent interest. One dollar out of every three was invested by the borrowers in livestock. The total sum of the money loaned in Texas was $9,011,000. Investment in livestock amounted to $2,866,404. This sum was used for the purchase of 17,311 mules, 9,286 horses, 7,932 milk cows, 13,296 hogs, and 80,186 chickens.

There is no need to go into the matter of the credit system under which the tenant farmers, and particularly share croppers, have been forced to operate. For reasons which it appears have been unavoidable in the past, the tenant has been required to pay interest and other charges which often amounted to 40 per cent or more. The difference between that and the 5 per cent which is charged by the Resettlement Administration is in itself a long step toward helping the tenant get on a basis where he can lay by a reserve. But it is also a requirement of the resettlement Administration that all borrowers adopt a live-at-home program, carefully mapped out for them by the county supervisor of the Resettlement Administration with the aid of the county agricultural agents and a county advisory board. This is a second means, on top of the lower interest charge, which works toward a better farm income, and acts as a step toward ownership.

In the matter of actually providing land, the Resettlement Administration has made a start this year by placing under option land enough for 63 farms in Texas and Oklahoma, which will be sold to selected farmers from low-income groups. These farmers are to be chosen with the aid of county advisory committees. They will be placed on the land under a five-year lease contract. During that five years they will have an opportunity of accumulating enough to make a down payment of fifteen per cent. When they are able to make that payment and when the Resettlement Administration and the prospective purchaser are both satisfied with the agreement, a sale contract will be executed by which the purchaser will have forty years in which to make payment, the interest rate being three per cent.

Only the best land is being bought for these farms, and it is bought only at such a price as is justified by the past production record. Incidentally, the Resettlement Administration is thus stabilizing the price of land at figures upon which the land will pay out. This is a very important contribution toward getting and keeping the title of the land in the hands of the man who operates it.

MRS. GILBERT ENTERTAINED

Mrs. W. H. Gilbert entertained the choir members of the Methodist Church, Monday, Sept. 21, at 7:45 P. M. at her home on Jackson Avenue, for the purpose of reorganizing and electing new officers. The hostess presiding, the house was called to order and Mr. C. G. Green led in prayer. Mrs. Gilbert discussed and informed us of the duties and privileges of a choir, encouraging helpful suggestions from each one.

The officers for the year, elected by ballot, are:

Mrs. G. R. Bennett, Vice Pres.,
Mrs. Mary Farrow, Secretary and Treasurer,
Mrs. C. G. Green, Reporter,

Mr. J. O. Jones, Director,
Miss Edwina Gilbert, Pianist.
Assistant director to be appointed by director.

METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL CLOSES A SUCCESS- FUL YEAR

One year ago Bro. C. G. Green, Superintendent of the Hamlin School System, became Superintendent of our Church School. He has proved his ability to organize, lead forward, and take care of the many demands made on a superintendent in this field as well as being an efficient superintendent in the field of literary achievements. Around his leadership has been built a system that has lead safely through this Sunday School year and, since he has consented to remain in this office for another year, we are looking forward to still greater things. The two outstanding classes of the year are in our Adult Division; the men of the church and one class, the "King's Daughters", composed of our younger women. The men are slightly leading with an average attendance of about fourth during the summer months.

Next Sunday is "Promotion Day." Pupils will be advanced from one department to another and a new corps of teachers will be presented to the Church at the close of the Sunday School hour. On October 4th, the new staff of teachers will assume their responsibilities for the year. A new class of our young men and women of town is being formed. Meet with this class next Sunday and boost for this young life that is just entering the business world to make their contribution to humanity.

Church service are, 11:00 A. M., "Our Religious Nature—Second and Low Gear." To make the present "Grade" we must have this reserve power. Sunday night, 7:45, Mrs. Longino will speak of her recent Nashville trip. First installment on payment for the house work, dish washing, etc., done while she was away.

One means about as much to the church as the church means to him as an individual. "To be higher up, grow bigger."

For the High School the Senior class mother is Mrs. E. A. Preston; for Juniors: Mrs. Tom Teague; for Sophomores, Mrs. Sebastian and the Freshman have as yet to select their room mother.—Contributed.

SOME SAN ANGELO FLOOD SUFFERERS FROM HAMLIN

Last Sunday quite a number of Hamlin folks went to San Angelo to see the effects of the great flood that wrought disaster there. Among those going were Dr. and Mrs. Joe McCrary, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Steele, and Revis Robertson.

This week we had a report through Engineer Kirkland, who spent two days in San Angelo. He reports that Mr. and Mrs. Arch Hackley's furniture was greatly damaged; that Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Tims house was damaged and their furniture ruined; that Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Riddle's furniture was ruined; that Mr. and Mrs. U. B. Kent's home was greatly damaged and their furniture lost. Mr. Kirkland said the water reached the ceiling in their home, and the water reached the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Blair but did no damage. All these folks are well known in Hamlin, and have the sympathy of all their friends.

Clean System Clear Skin

You must be free from constipation to have a good, clear complexion. If not eliminated, the wastes of digestion produce poisons and the skin must do more than its share in helping to get rid of them.

So for a clear, healthy skin, remember the importance of bowel regularity. At the first sign of constipation, take Black-Draught—the purely vegetable laxative. It brings such refreshing relief, and tends to leave the bowels acting regularly until some future disturbance interferes.

OIL-PLATING

In about a minute this engine will be getting Oil-Plated and won't need any oil added for such a long time that the owner will pass up everything for Conoco Germ Processed oil. In making this oil, a patented "hyper-oily concentrate," as Science terms it, is used to alloy a most carefully refined mineral oil. That is Germ Processing! It has two sure effects . . . (1) makes the familiar type of oil-film many times stronger . . . (2) backs this far stronger film with an entirely extra Oil-Plating. Oil-Plating is an actual deposit of Germ Processed oil, fixedly Plated to every moving part. So you have oil-film sliding on Oil-Plating . . . oil-moving-on-oil! And you can't keep farther away than that, from "another quart of oil." Continental Oil Co.

SOCIAL BEGGARS THINK WORLD OWES THEM LIVING

Anna, living in a college town, might very well run a boarding house for students. Her idle son might find a very profitable job in washing dishes, and her daughter might forget her discontent if she put on a waitress' apron and cap and made herself useful.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

ANNA is a woman who never has solved her own problem. Since I first knew her, some forty years ago, when we were both girls in school, Anna has been unequal to the demands of the moment, but perfectly sure that if she had a little help she would be a great success.

At fifteen Anna said that if she only had some rich friend who could send her to New York to study dramatics she could be an actress. She wasn't going to take any job in an office or shop; she didn't propose to find herself middle-aged some day, working for a drug firm at twenty-five dollars a month!

That was forty years ago. Ever since then I have watched her floundering more and more helplessly in the mesh of life that is never going to be unravelled for her now. Tangles that the Twenties don't solve have no way of miraculously smoothing out in the Fifties. Anna has never gotten so far as to get up in the mornings and get breakfast on time; she has never liked housework—she says it is servants' business. Anna's beds are never made; her husband died a broken and disappointed man after twenty years of discomfort and inefficiency. Anna's daughter and son are now following in her footsteps. The daughter, widowed, has come home with a baby daughter; the son, unhappily married, is also living at home again as a single man.

None of them has any money. None can get work. Refined and idle and eloquent, they are professional beggars. They have a large pretentious house well plastered with mortgages; a house that is falling into ruin for the want of paint and plaster. Everyone in town is sorry for them, and everyone gives them a wide berth.

Anna and her children, always very elegant about it, and with sensibilities easily hurt, have "borrowed" money from everyone who will lend it. Occasionally a newcomer in town, some kind-hearted woman who has listened for the first time to Anna's story, takes up a collection for Anna. She finds ten women who will put up a hundred dollars apiece, or she has a garden party for dear unfortunate Mrs. Poore. Anna's letters of thanks are very dashing; the last one I had, had a coat-of-arms upon it.

Things will be like this now as long as Anna lives, and when she dies Anita and little Nancy will take up the good work. The world, they feel, owes them a living. Just why it does, when it doesn't apparently owe millions of equally worthy folk a living, is obscure. But the phrase is a favorite with Anna.

"I feel that there is some rich man or woman somewhere," Anna says, "who would be only too glad to give me and the youngsters the little we need to be comfortable, and to preserve our self-respect. Well! The only thing, then, is to find that person."

Frequently, hearing that one has a rich friend, she suggests it.

"You know this Mr. Smith. You wouldn't want to suggest to him that it would be much smarter than having his name on the charity list to have him simply relieve me of the miseries of responsibility and anxiety that I've carried all these years. I think I've done my share! I think I've contributed enough to the general scheme of things. I deserve a rest now."

As a matter of fact she never has done anything. She never has cooked a good meal, or kept her house clean, or lived within her income even when she had an income. She has tried fifty jobs and never held one. She has spent weeks—years in explaining to her friends exactly why she couldn't do this sort of work and wasn't fitted for that. At the moment I write influential friends are being importuned by Anna to recommend her for a government job of three thousand a year.

"I would have to have a car," she told me in reference to it. "Because it's really just a sort of inspection of the whole county. I think I could do that, and maybe squeeze poor darling Alan into something good on the side. He's been trying for seven years now to find something to do, and it's having a bad effect on him, poor child!"

If she gets this job, Anna will hold it just so long as it takes the higher authorities to discover that she is completely unfit to fill it. Sometimes that discovery takes weeks, sometimes months, but with Anna it always arrives, and she is sent back to idle at home among the dropping plastered walls, the broken plumbing, the dingy wood-work and rotting furniture again.

Never having solved the very first problems of her little girlhood she naturally isn't going to change now.

Even today she has a profitable source of income close at hand. In this college town one-third of the plainer homes take in boarders during the term, and make good money from it. School boys and girls are not critical tenants. Simple, good, hot food and plenty of it, and a bedside light for study hours constitute their main needs. There are scores of women in this neighborhood who support themselves by keeping boarders. Some of these women have to pay for help, or take part of their board-money in help. Anna has two assistants in her family. The idle son might find a very profitable job in washing dishes for his mother, cranking the ice-cream freezer, raking the doorway and painting the fences. The daughter might forget her abiding and bitter discontent if she put on a waitress' apron and cap and made herself useful for the first time in her twenty-five years.

Ten dollars a week apiece from ten boarders is money. Even spending ten dollars a day on food and laundry Anna couldn't but save. But she would have to work, and the fundamental difficulty with her, and with so many like her, is that they hate work. Anna has shuddered away from the very idea of it all her life.

Right in the same block are the Swensens; small busy blonde mother, crippled father, four children. The two oldest boys sell magazines, deliver newspapers, work on Saturdays in shops, gardens, lumber yards; wherever their activities can find a few hours pay labor. They keep twenty per cent of what they make and are buying an old car. Mr. Swensen carves little wooden birds and brackets and oddities generally for one of the local cabinet makers. Mrs. Swensen cooks for a good part of the day on an old gas-stove with a loose piece of zinc reinforcing the oven. She sells soups, rolls, pies, cookies, macaroni, jams to private customers, and tow-headed Inga and Kurt deliver the cooked food in the coaster, after school.

Mrs. Swensen, shy, fair, hard-working, foreign-born, has solved her problem. She tells no story of bad times and unemployment; she is not looking for a rich stranger to finance her idleness for the rest of her days. One knows that even in her small girlhood back in Sweden little Linda Andersen did what her mother told her to do; small, vigorous, earnest, one sees her herding geese, plumping feather beds, sweeping a flagged old kitchen floor as if Davy Jones were after her! One knows that when George Swensen was brought home to her helpless and crushed, five years ago, she faced his tragedy, faced her own, puzzled and wept and prayed out the solution.

And the moral of all this is that almost every woman has a problem, now, today, this minute. And that there is no use dreaming of larger problems, planning for more congenial duties, until these present ones are completely solved. Until your scheme runs like clock-work, despite any difficulties, under any handicaps, it is mere waste of time to think that you would be equal to the demand if the demand were changed. If you can be a success in middle-age, you are one. If any possible combination of circumstances can make you a failure, an idle discontented parasite, then no possible combination of circumstances could make you anything else.

I say "in middle-age," because youth often has a time—may even have years—of doubt and despair, changing and failing. It is a part of youth to be defeated; it should be a part of youth to expect and defeat defeat. But when you hear from any woman over thirty-five a sad, philosophical tale of the bad fortune that has dogged her, the mischances that have baffled her, the cruel injustices that fortune has dealt her—look out! It may be Anna.

PAINS

Severe functional pains of menstruation, cramping spells and jangled nerves soon rob a woman of her natural, youthful freshness. PAIN lines in a woman's face too often grow into AGE lines!

Thousands of women have found it helpful to take Cardui. They say it seemed to ease their pains and they noticed an increase in their appetites and finally a strengthened resistance to the discomfort of monthly periods.

Try Cardui. Of course if it doesn't help you, see your doctor.

I. E. S. Better Sight Lamps

LEND eye protection TO EVERYONE

Bracket I. E. S. Better Sight Lamp: This lamp clamps on table or desk to give you sight-saving light with minimum waste of desk space. Swing it over your work when you need it; swing it out of the way when you don't.

NOTE TRANSLUCENT BOWL common to all I. E. S. Better Sight Lamps.

I. E. S. Better Sight Table Lamp: Specifically designed for study and reading, they provide eyesight protection for the school child, college student and everyone who uses eyes for close work at home.

I. E. S. Better Sight Floor Lamp: Placed beside the easy chair this lamp insures relaxation and reading comfort. It gives 3 degrees of light—from one lamp bulb.

I. E. S. Semi-Indirect Lamp: This lamp gives 3 levels of light from one bulb—100, 200, or 300 watts—ample light for a bridge game; excellent light for reading; or soft pleasant light for entertaining.

Why subject your family to the punishment of glaring improper lighting that nine out of ten homes now have? It causes eye-strain and fatigue—plays havoc with nerves, impairs precious eyesight. How are you going to make seeing safe in your home? That's the problem.

I. E. S. Better Sight Lamps help solve this problem. They give you enough light to make seeing easier. The light is well-diffused, smooth and restful, and spreads in a wide circle over table, desk, or chair. Every member of your family needs this sight-saving light for reading, study, and all close tasks. Come in and choose your lamps. Easy terms can be arranged.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule ... and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

SENIORS

The seniors had their first class The seniors have started this school year with a bang. There are only 46 seniors this year, but we are courageous and ambitious and that means a lot. We have the smallest class in high school, but we are going to do the biggest things. We plan to make this the best senior class in the history of Hamlin.

The seniors rd their first class meeting Monday, September the twenty-first. Miss Ruby Thompson was chosen for senior sponsor. She has been senior sponsor for the past four years and she did so many nice things that we wanted her for our sponsor. We are going to co-operate with her and know that she is going to co-operate with us.

In the second class meeting Tuesday, September twenty-second, Lester Morton was chosen for Class President. We are sure that Lester will make a good president and we are for him one hundred per cent.

Ted Longino was chosen for vice-president to assist the president. Everyone feels sure that Ted will faithfully fill his position when necessary.

The office of Secretary-Treasurer will be occupied by none other than John F. Green. Everyone knows John F. for what he is and we are trusting in him. We feel that he will be honest and sincere and that he will always do his duty.

Mrs. Preston was chosen for Class Mother, for the year, and we have agreed to co-operate faithfully with her. We feel sure that she will do everything in her power to make this a happy year for the seniors.

Then someone said, "Where is the reporter?" The reporter is your old friend Envil Ray Farmer. He is "green" about such business, but he will, if possible tell you what is going on in the senior class.

The queen and escort will be chosen in the near future. Along with this will be a class motto—so be sure to read the senior report for many interesting details.

Each week the seniors hope to have a report in the paper, so find where it is and read it.

—REPORTER.

JUNIOR CLASS BEGINS NEW YEAR

Early Tuesday morning the Juniors of Hamlin High, by electing the class officers and sponsor, began the first of a series of events which we hope will make the Junior Class one of the most outstanding classes of the year. Miss Doris Pope was elected to be sponsor of the class by a large majority of the members. M. Y. Wilson is the Junior class president while Morrison Nicholson is vice president, Mary Dell Park, secretary-treasurer, and Oleta King, reporter, complete the list of officers. At a more recent meeting Mrs. Tom Teague was elected as Class Mother.

This year the Juniors will begin their work by presenting the Junior Carnival in only a short time to raise sufficient funds to finance the Junior and Senior banquet.

The Junior play is to be the second important event and will be presented at the regular time.

To climax the year, we hope to present one of the most colorful Junior and Senior banquets that has been given for the benefit of the Seniors.

Realizing that this year has brought new responsibilities for us to master, each member of the class has agreed to work co-operatively with the officers and with Miss Pope so that our work will be a pleasure and not a task to be performed. We have personally endorsed the High School Newspaper, and many of the Juniors are working to keep it in operation. With the majority of the football squad as Junior boys and the Junior girls in the Pep Squad we hope that this year will be a successful year for us and for Hamlin High School.

MCCAULLEY SCHOOL NEWS

Hats off! Along the streets there comes a brand new class of seniors with happy cheers and songs.

What class? The McCaulley High School senior class has burst forth with 14 of the peppiest members ever before, strutting through the old Alma Mater's halls.

Organization was begun immediately upon the second day of school in order that no time might be lost in fulfilling the dream of a perfect graduating class.

Miss Kenna Rector was chosen to pilot this squad because of her energetic personality and and J. B. Jayroe as president, because of his ability to co-operate; the class is not lacking for strong leaders.

Each Wednesday you will notice white shirts and red ties, and red and white dresses. That will mean that the senior gentlemen and senior ladies are stepping out in their class colors—red and white. Within 10 days you'll see brand new rings sparkling on each member's finger which goes to show that the class is losing no time in becoming standardized.

This is the first but not the last report from the senior class. Look out for more news for we'll be brimming full each week.

The following members can be relied upon for interesting and worthwhile write-ups:

J. B. Jayroe, president, Elizabeth Hines, vice-pres., Florence Maberry, sec-treas., Millie Drennan, reporter, Frances Maberry, Latane Akins, Ray Hendrickson, social committee, Marvin Davison, Ted Blackwell, Johnnie James Maberry, Elwood Kean, Laverne Parker, Willie Gibson and Sibyl Kelsey.

MR. LARKIN RESIGNS AS

INTERMEDIATE PRINCIPAL

One very regrettable resignation in our school faculty is that of Mr. Larkin, who was serving his second term as principal of the Intermediate Department of the Hamlin school. He accepted a place as superintendent at Wingate, Texas, south of Abilene. He and his wife left immediately to take up their duties there Monday of this week.

In Mr. Larkin's place the Board elected Mr. Seay, who comes as a teacher of considerable experience, having taught in several good schools of Texas. He is from the Rio Grande Valley, a graduate of the University of Illinois. He will also be assistance coach to Mr. Galloway.

HURT ON ROAD

STAMFORD, Sept. 21.—Two children were injured, one critically, when struck by an automobile as they stepped from behind a parked school bus three and a half miles west of here this afternoon.

Sue Meador, 14, received a fractured skull and Nan Cox, also 14, had all her teeth knocked out and was bruised. Both were in Stamford hospital tonight.

Sue is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Meador and Nan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Cox. Both families lived west of Stamford.

The accident occurred about 4:30 o'clock as the two girls alighted from the school bus, which was on a route westward on the Hamlin highway. As the girls stepped from the bus, witnesses said, they stepped to the rear of the vehicle and started to cross the highway.

A car driven eastward by Mrs. Marjorie Bailey, welfare case worker for Jones County, struck the girls. Witnesses said that Mrs. Bailey, who was driving at slow speed over the wet road, sounded her horn upon seeing the children and swerved to one side. The car ran into a cotton field on the right side of the highway and mired there.

The girls were brought to Stamford hospital in a passing truck.

A factory owner said it was because of this new Free pick-up-and-delivery of less than carload freight. This is door-to-door service with no extra charge added to the freight bill.

A traveling salesman said it was because so many passenger and freight trains now run on faster schedules.

There was a school principal in the group and he said it was because train travel is so much cheaper for passengers. He said passenger fares are at the lowest point in history, with substantial reductions if you buy a round-trip ticket—and no more surcharge for riding in sleeping cars.

One man, a farmer, said he liked something he could depend on, that's why he was traveling by train.

Another man, a newspaper reporter, said people were in favor of railroad travel because it is by far the safest. He quoted a lot of statistics from a book called, "Live and Let Live."

A banker we all know by name said railroad tax payments mean a lot in this state.

We are proud of railroad achievements, appreciate the public's good will and increased patronage, and pledge continued progress.

BANKERS WILL MEET IN ANNUAL COUNCIL

Business Men Also Invited to Present Their Views on Services of Banks to the Public

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Robert V. Fleming, President American Bankers Association, has announced that the organization's annual convention will be held at San Francisco, September 21-24, and its program will call in not only bankers but speakers from various lines of business to present their viewpoints and advice.

The plans for the convention discussions take into consideration the fact, he said, that one of the major problems of banking today is to develop its operations along lines that will create greater public understanding of its methods and services.

"It is my earnest conviction that such public understanding of banking is not only an essential defense against attacks from whatever source but is also requisite to reestablishing it upon a firm and satisfactory basis of profitable operations," Mr. Fleming said.

General Improvement Cited

"The improvement in general conditions which is now taking place should be of material aid to bankers in carrying forward a constructive program for increasingly useful relationships between banking and business, as well as one of more helpful personal business services to all our people. Sound banking conducted in ways the public need and understand must be the aim of successful bank management.

"How can the banker make his operations and policies more understandable to the people of his community? How can better and broader financial services be soundly provided? How can banking improve its operating methods and income? These and many similar questions demand the earnest attention of all bankers. They call for a fresh counselling together and a new interchange of experience and advice among the members of our profession.

"With these thoughts in mind, we have built the convention program with the view of also calling into our councils speakers from various lines of business to give us their viewpoints and advice. I can say without reservation that this is to my mind one of the most crucial years in the evolution of American banking, and that we are passing through a period demanding, as never before, cooperation and mutual exchange of viewpoint among our members and others."

Radio Commencement Exercises

More than 200 widely separated chapters of the American Institute of Banking, the educational section of the American Bankers Association, hold annually in September a simultaneous commencement exercise at which they listen to the speaker of the evening by radio. This is said to be the most extensive graduation ceremony held by any educational institution. The aggregate membership of the chapters, which are located in cities and towns throughout the United States, totals about 35,000 bank employees and officers. The graduates number each year more than 2,500, and total graduates are now over 25,000.

The Business Outlook

NEW YORK.—The natural forces of recovery have demonstrated their strength and have a momentum which may reasonably be expected to carry the country into new high ground, says "Banking," the publication of the American Bankers Association, in its August issue. The momentary stimulation following the distribution of bonus funds to the veterans has practically died away and is no longer an important business factor. A certain degree of uncertainty arising from the national political campaign is unavoidable, the magazine says.

Foreign Trade

The Commerce and Marine Commission of the American Bankers Association has made a report which shows that the foreign trade of the world for the year 1935 on the basis of its estimated physical volume was 78.9 per cent of the 1929 level. This was 2.1 per cent above the volume of 1934 and is the highest since 1929. The gold values of world trade were much lower due to the lower commodity prices in January, 1936. The combined index of 75 countries showed 35.7 per cent of the 1929 average.

National Bank Growth

Comptroller of the Currency O'Connor announced recently that total deposits of the 5,374 national banks in the United States on June 30, 1936, the date of the last call made for statements of condition, aggregated $26,200,453,000. The figure is a new high record for national banks, exceeding by $1,340,998,000, or 5.39%, the amount reported as of March 4, 1936, the previous high record. The current figures show also that deposits increased $3,682,207,000, or 16.35%, over the amount reported as of June 29, 1935, the date of the corresponding call a year ago.
